Many women have grieved silently and may not have shared their experience with others. This retreat and ministry is for any birthmother who has placed a child for adoption whether the birth of their child was very recent or many years in the past. This weekend retreat offers the birth mom a chance to seek the healing she may need, and to meet and learn from other women who have experienced the same pain. Group sharing, activities, counseling, and journaling are all included in this healing weekend open to women of all faiths.
